

Unfair tactic empties Forks zoning meeting

On Monday I attended a Forks Township zoning board meeting. It as well attended by at least 200 residents in opposition to Nic Zawarski's challenge of the township's farmland preservation zoning ordinance.

Before this meeting could begin, it was discovered that landowners within 300 feet of the proposed developments had not received the required registered letters of notification of the meeting.

This is nothing more than a cheap stalling tactic by devious lawyers and greedy developers to make angry residents go away frustrated.

All the good people who took time out of their schedules to attend this fiasco should come back Aug. 21 – and bring their neighbors.
