

Reject Leon Fisher in Forks primary

I can't believe that Leon Fisher is running again for supervisor in Forks. Fisher is the disgraced former Forks police chief who was soundly drubbed by voters in his 2005 election bid for the board of supervisors.

In 2004 Fisher resigned his police chief job after being fined by the state Ethics Commission. Fisher was found guilty of violating the state Ethics Act when he bought federal surplus items for himself and others. When running for office in 2005, Fisher refused to publicly explain anything about his violations. No wonder he lost by a landslide!

Honesty and integrity should be a prerequisite as a public servant. While suspended and under investigation, he collected $65,000 of taxpayers' money.

Get ready, Forks Republicans, he is running for office again! It's up to voters to do the sensible thing and reject him in the primary election.
